The Department of Women’s Studies invites YOU to a Reading by and Conversation with

Florence Howe

Teacher, writer, activist, long-time publisher of The Feminist Press, and a founder of the field of Women’s Studies

Reading from her recent memoir

A Life in Motion

And discussing topics ranging from the art of memoir

To activism in the neoliberal University

When: December 5, 2012, 3-4:30 PM
Where: 1126 Taliaferro Building

(A reception will follow the Reading and Conversation)

This event is co-sponsored by Women’s Studies, American Studies, English, the College of Arts and Humanities, and the Curriculum Transformation Project