

2015 Guest Lecture Series:
Life Course and Obstacles to the Opportunity Structure

Presented by:

CRGE Consortium on Race,
Gender and Ethnicity

Date:

Feb. 19

ALICE GOFFMAN
On the Run: Fugitive Life in an American City

Time:

12-1:30 PM

Forty years in, the War on Crime and Drugs has done almost nothing to prevent drugs from being sold or used, but it has nonetheless created a little-known surveillance state in America's most disadvantaged neighborhoods. Goffman spent six years living in one such neighborhood in Philadelphia; Goffman will discuss her in-depth ethnographic book On the Run which recounts young men and women coming of age as they attend court dates and parole meetings, survive interrogations and beatings, and dip and dodge the police.

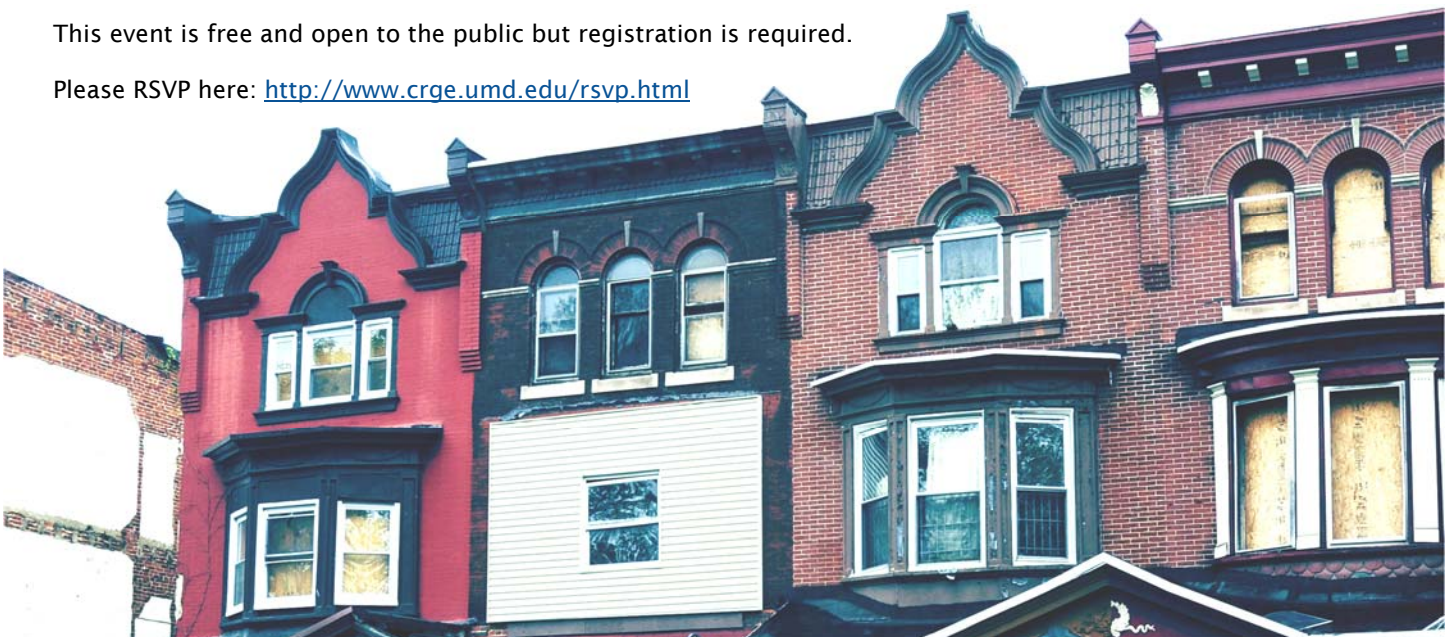

Location:

Margaret Brent Room
Stamp Student Union

Alice Goffman is an urban ethnographer who grew up in Philadelphia. She attended graduate school at Princeton and now teaches in the sociology department at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

This event is free and open to the public but registration is required.

Please RSVP here: <http://www.crge.umd.edu/rsvp.html>

In collaboration with the Maryland Population Research Center (MPRC)