

THE FEMINIST RACIAL JUSTICE PROJECT OF QUEER BROWN VOICES WITH DR. SALVADOR VIDAL-ORTIZ

DISCUSSANT: DR. CHRISTINA HANHARDT,
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF AMERICAN STUDIES, UMD

Winner, 2016 American Anthropological Association, Association for Queer Anthropologists' Ruth Benedict Book Prize (as Outstanding Edited Volume)

Research Workshop

Tuesday, March 28, 2017, 12:00-1:30pm
Maryland Room, Marie Mount Hall
Lunch will be provided.

RSVP by March 17, 2017 to hallw@umd.edu

In this workshop-style presentation, Dr. Vidal-Ortiz will discuss the foundational feminist, queer, and racial justice roots of the book, Queer Brown Voices: Personal Narratives of Latina/o LGBT Activism, the political need for the documentation of these histories, and mechanisms of producing a book based on oral histories with people from the U.S. and Puerto Rico. The interactive session will help attendees imagine similar projects with communities whose life narratives need to be told – and to think critically about presenting the stories and diversifying their distribution and availability in order to reach younger generations sooner. The first 25 attendees will receive a complimentary book at the end of the session.

Salvador Vidal-Ortiz, PhD, is Associate Professor in the Department of Sociology at American University, in Washington, DC. He also teaches in the Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies program. He has co-edited two award winning books, The Sexuality of Migration and Queer Brown Voices. He continues to work on his Fulbright-based research on forced migration/internal displacement and LGBT Colombians, and is also engaged in a new project, with Juliana Martinez on "Transgendering Human Rights: Lessons from Latin America."
