Monday, December 3

6:00 pm

0200 Symons Hall

University of Maryland

Barbara Ransby discusses her book, Making All Black Lives Matter: Reimagining Freedom in the 21st Century (University of California Press, 2018).

Dr. Ransby's talk is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served.

Co-sponsored by the Departments of African American Studies, American Studies, and Women's Studies, and the African American Political Culture Workshop in the Department of History, University of Maryland College Park.

For more information, contact Professor Elsa Barkley Brown – barkleyb@umd.edu

Barbara Ransby- Making All Black Lives Matter Monday, 12/03, 6pm, 0200 Symons Hall

THE BOOK: In her new book, award-winning historian and longtime activist Barbara Ransby outlines the scope and genealogy of the Black Lives Matter Movement/Movement for Black Lives, documenting roots in Black feminist and Black queer politics. She situates the contemporary activism squarely in a Black radical tradition, one that is anticapitalist, internationalist, and focused on some of the most marginalized members of the Black community. Ransby brings to her analysis the perspective of historian and participant-observer, as she maps the movement, profiles many of its lesser-known leaders, measures its impact, outlines its challenges, and looks toward its future.

Gender & Sexuality in Israeli Cinema

LGBT298T/WMST298T/ISRL249K/
FILM298K/JWST219B

Meets Tues/Thurs 3:30-4:45pm

This course will explore the different ways gender and sexuality have been represented in Israeli Cinema over time. We will examine notions of "manhood" and "womanhood" within the Israeli social context, as well as look at examples of outliers, exceptions, transgressors, and pariahs. We will investigate different types of representations of gender and sexuality, asking how they configure secular society, the Orthodox/ Haredi religious community, the LGBTQ community, the Arab/Palestinian communities, the Israeli soldier population, and more.

ID#: 180991

Preferred Class: Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior

Preferred Majors: Arts and Humanities, Arts and Humanities/Communication, Business, Undergraduate Studies, Office of Extended Studies, Letters and Sciences/Undecided

Job Function: Communication, Marketing

Location: Washington, DC

Description:

Love movies? Allied Global Marketing, one of the nation's leading entertainment PR agencies, is looking for qualified interns in the Publicity & Promotions Division for the Spring 2019 semester. From big blockbusters to indie hits, we represent the biggest names in Hollywood, including Warner Bros, Disney, 20th Century Fox, Paramount Pictures, Universal Pictures and more.

Interns will assist on marketing campaigns for upcoming movies, learn the strategy behind promotional and publicity work, interact with local press and media partners, and help reach audiences at the grassroots level. We're looking for bright, energetic, creative self-starters with strong detail orientation and excellent verbal and written communication skills. Communications, public relations and marketing majors are strongly encouraged, but all majors will be considered

ALL APPLICANTS MUST BE CURRENT STUDENTS. These positions are only open to those currently enrolled in an accredited college or university. We offer two types of internships:

College Ambassadors:

- Work with an Allied team assigned to one specific film studio. Studios may include Disney, Warner Bros., Paramount, Sony, and more.
- Work on all films released by that studio during that semester.
- Primarily work from home/campus and must have access to computer, internet and phone service
- Meet with the Allied studio team in their Farragut North-area office once per month.
- Work on-site at evening and/or weekend movie screenings or events, as necessary.
- The number of hours worked is determined by project, averaging approximately 10-15 hour per week.
- College Ambassadorships are PAID positions. Stipends and number of hours required vary by studio, from $150-$300/month.

Office Interns:

- Work with Allied teams on studios that do not employ College Ambassadors, including Universal, 20th Century Fox, and more.

- Must be available to work at least 16 hours per week in our office (1730 M St NW). This can be split up into half days.
- Must be available one night per week (Monday – Thursday) to assist with advance movie screenings or events as necessary.
- Office Internships are UNPAID positions and interns must receive college credit. After a semester as an office intern, opportunities as College Ambassadors, as well as paid movie screening/event reps, may be available.

As part of the internship syllabus, CAs and office interns will each make monthly presentations to staff demonstrating their accomplishments, as well as complete a portfolio piece to be used in future job interviews. College credit may be obtained for either position, as available from individual schools. To apply, please email your resume and cover letter to eglazer@alliedim.com and ghagan@alliedim.com.

Duration: Spring 2019

Hours Per Week:

- College Ambassador: 10-15 Office
- Intern: 16+

Compensation:

- College Ambassador: $150-$300 per month
- Office Interns: Unpaid Internship

Qualifications:

- Work with Allied teams on studios that do not employ College Ambassadors, including Universal, 20th Century Fox, and more.
- Must be available to work at least 16 hours per week in our office (1730 M St NW). This can be split up into half days.

- Must be available one night per week (Monday – Thursday) to assist with advance movie screenings or events as necessary.
- Office Internships are UNPAID positions and interns must receive college credit. After a semester as an office intern, opportunities as College Ambassadors, as well as paid movie screening/event reps, may be available.
